WORK STARTS ON NEW BUILDINGS THIS SUMMER

Completion of Commons
Authorized by Trustees

NEW MEN'S DORMITORY

Plans Already Being Drawn for
New Wing to Commons—Will Be Ready for Occupancy by Middle of Next Year

Work will begin on the wing of the Commons building and on the new men's dormitory soon after Commencement according to a recent announcement by President Hetzel. The wing on the Commons will complete the building as originally planned. Building costs rose so rapidly during the war that the appropriation was insufficient to complete the building at that time. The new men's dormitory will house many men now forced to room off the campus, and will give much needed relief to the congestion in the Barracks.

The authorization to proceed with the wing on the Commons was given to President Hetzel at a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, all members of the Board, including Governor Winant, being present. The construction of the men's dormitory was put in charge of a committee consisting of Governor Winant, President Hetzel, and Mr. Daniell. Plans and specifications for the wing on the Commons will be ready in two weeks, bids will be let about June 10, and the ground will be broken early in the summer so that the wing will be ready for occupancy by the middle of the next college year.

The main floor of the wing will contain a large social room, a waiting room and a game room. Following the war the social rooms in the dormitories were cut up into bedrooms to relieve the housing congestion and one of the most serious needs of the university has been rooms where the students could meet for recreation. The Commons building will now provide this much needed social center. The second floor will have two rooms for use as meeting rooms of University organizations; they will be used also for the entertainment of visiting teams. On this floor will be a comfortable reading room.

The third floor will be used temporarily as a girls' dormitory as is the third floor of the main Commons building. When the much needed girls' dormitory is erected, the third floor of the Commons will be used for men, which is the arrangement called for by the plan for the future of the campus. The basement will house the male help of the University dining hall and will contain storage rooms for the dining hall.

Plans are now being drawn for the new men's dormitory, which will occupy a position next to Fairchild at the northeast corner of the men's campus. It will probably be a red brick building of the Georgian colonial type and will house 140 men. It is expected that construction can be commenced during the summer so that it will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the college year in the fall of 1926.

MOTHERS OF THETA CHI MEN HERE FOR SUNDAY

Zeta Chapter, Theta Chi fraternity, observed Mother's Sunday, May 10, by entertaining the mothers of its members at dinner and an informal gathering which lasted all day. More than 30 guests, including several of the boys' fathers, were present at the dinner, which was served in the chapter house. The guests began to arrive early in the morning, and many attended the special Mother's Day service in the Community Church. During the afternoon, many of the mothers were shown about the campus for the first time, and the guests left for their homes late in the afternoon after a buffet lunch had been served. The affair was so successful, and the mothers of the men so thoroughly enjoyed the day, that the chapter plans to make the observance of Mother's Day an annual event.

Those present included: Mrs. S. T. Fergusson and Miss Mary Morgan, of Goffstown; Mrs. L. C. Wheeler, Miss Doris Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Tetzlaff, Mr. and Mrs.

Zeta Ends It All

Never to be outdone by his rival, Lang, Zeta has passed to his reward within a week of the younger campus pet. Lang was killed by a truck, but Zeta, always original, ate some poison which had been planted to exterminate rats from some of the University buildings.

Zeta was a three-collar dog, as the saying goes; a mongrel, one of the breed known as a "yaller". Worthless and useless, a tramp who obeyed but one master—his own sweet will. Not much of a loss to anyone, possibly, and yet his death will be regretted by many students who have lived here during the last four years. Friends he had everywhere; he was at home in all fraternity houses; he ate in the restaurant of his choice. He attended every sporting event and many of the more pretentious convocations. His presence was necessary to fill out a New Hampshire group picture always. If there are any free bones in that dog's heaven described in last week's New Hampshire, then Zeta is right now chasing Lang around a shiny corner of the golden streets.

The New Hampshire varsity nine took on a new lease of life when it faced Clark on the Worcester diamond last Saturday. The down country pitchers were deluged with hits from the New Hampshire bludgeons and although the game went but seven innings, the locals rolled up a score of 26 to 5. The next day at Middletown, Conn., Wesleyan managed to nose out Coach Swasey's nine in a close and hard fought battle; the final score was 5-3.

Clark Overwhelmed
The New Hampshire baseball nine played Clark College to a standstill in Worcester on last Friday. New Hampshire hit exceptionally well, and coupled with this was Clark's poor fielding which resulted in a score of 26 to 5. New Hampshire scored in every inning and in the fourth, piled up 11 runs. The scorers were under a continual strain during the entire game, which lasted only seven innings. The best play of the game was when Lufkin stole home in the seventh. Three of

B. U. SCORE 75 TO 59

Next Meet at Storrs, Conn. on Saturday When Connecticut Aggies Will Meet Improved N. H.
Aggregation

The varsity track team broke its losing streak last Saturday afternoon by trampling the Boston University track stars to the tune of 75 1-3 to 59 2-3.

One college record was shattered during this meet, another was equalled and still another came near being duplicated. This first feat occurred when Capt. Eddie Coughlin, New Hampshire's veteran quarter miler lowered that record which he had himself set up in the Maine meet, two weeks ago by one fifth of a second. "Abc" Smith equalled the record for the 220 yard low hurdles set up by Gunn in 1924. "Duke" Peaslee, the Blue and White's Nuri, came within one fifth of a second of breaking the record for the mile set up in 1919 by the great Nightingale.

Next Saturday the Varsity will invade Storrs, Conn. and if they show as much improvement in the next week as they have in the last the Connecticut Aggies will be another scalp on their belt.

The results of the meet follow:
120-Yard High Hurdles—Won by Whelton, B. U.; second, Smith, N. H.; third, Welsh, B. U. Time 17s.
1-Mile Run—Won by Peaslee, N. H.; second, Littlefield, N. H.; third, Hannens, B. U. Time, 4m 28 1-5s.
100-Yard Dash—Won by Morrill, B. U.; second, Brown, N. H.; third, Hatch, B. U. Time, 10 2-5s.

440-Yard Run—Won by Coughlin, N. H.; second, Pettee, N. H.; third, Outbank, B. U. Time 51 3-5s.

Two-Mile Run—Won by Clark, N. H.; second, Peaslee, N. H.; third, White, B. U. Time, 10m 16s.
220-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Smith, N. H.; second, Gray, N. H.; third, Evans, Time, 26 3-5s.

880-Yard Run—Won by Hearne, B. U.; second, Lee, N. H.; third, Cullen, B. U. Time, 2m 4-5s.

220-Yard Dash—Won by Hatch, B. U.; second, Morrill, B. U.; third, Brown, N. H. Time, 22 4-5s.

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL TO BE PLAYED NEXT WEEK, MAY 20 AND 21

Mask and Dagger to Present Sheridan's Masterpiece in Community
House on Wednesday and Thursday Evenings Preceding House Parties

Mask and Dagger will present "The School for Scandal" at the Community House on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The curtain will rise promptly at 8.10 upon a stage set in all the flavor of the eighteenth century. Professor Hennessy under whose charge the preparation of the production has been, has evolved a series of settings in draperies which will be an entirely new departure in dramatics at this institution.

"The School For Scandal" represents the finest flower of eighteenth century wit and contains such famous passages as:

"Let the toast pass
Drink to the lass
I warrant she'll prove
An excuse for the glass".

This will be sung by Bradford McIntire, '25. John Neville, '27, will play Charles Surface, the gay young dissolute blade who sells the pictures of his ancestors to his uncle from India, "Judges and generals by the foot and maiden aunts as cheap as broken china. Eleanor Tuttle, '25, is cast in the role of Lady Teazle, the frivolous flapper of eighteenth century London whose light headedness and light heartedness keep her staid and dignified old husband, Sir Peter Teazle, on edge throughout the performance. Two new actors, Charles Pattee, '26, and Hayden Pearson, '26, have joined the cast. Mr. Pattee as Joseph Surface and Mr. Pearson as Snake. The staff of production are: Louis Viola, '25, design; Norman Berry, '27, and Elroy Chase, '26, production; and Charles Russell, '28, properties. The price of admission will be fifty cents.

GOVERNOR WINANT QUIET VISITOR HERE LAST WEEK

Few students at the University knew that Governor John G. Winant was in Durham last week, until long after he had gone. If the news had been broadcast it is quite likely that His Excellency would have witnessed a demonstration much greater than any mock session the legislature has yet been able to stage. New Hampshire men and women like Governor Winant, they appreciate his services for the institution, and they are waiting for an opportunity to demonstrate in a vociferous manner that they are aware of his interest in their behalf.

But they weren't given any opportunity in this speedy visit of the Governor, the first since his election. Last Wednesday May 6, as the trustees were beginning their meeting, the Governor and Mrs. Winant drove up to the administration building unannounced and the Gov-

PRESIDENT HETZEL EXPLAINS MILL TAX BILL

Chris O'Leary, '20, Chairman of Committee on Arrangements—Dr. Boutwell and Representative of Governor Fuller Among Speakers—Speeches
Broadcast from WBZ

His Excellency, John G. Winant, Governor of the state of New Hampshire, speaking at the fourth annual banquet of the Boston Club of the University of New Hampshire Alumni Association held last Saturday evening, May 9th, emphasized strongly to those present "that the state of New Hampshire will support its university to the limit of its ability but that it expects the alumni of the institution to do its share towards the support of that institution". He said, "in return for the support given it by the state, the University was expected to give its unlimited support to the state in any way, shape or manner it could".

Discussing three important duties of a state university as regards; first, health; second, religion; and third, civic duty, the governor advocated not only a more complete attendance at the polls on voting days but also a more active participation by the people in the consideration of the state problems.

Dr. A. W. Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture, and, as it so proved, personal friend of many alumni present, was selected by his Excellency, Governor Alvan T. Fuller to carry the respects of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Governor Winant and the assemblage. Dr. Gilbert paid considerable tribute to the University of New Hampshire for the wonderful work it is doing, not only for the agricultural interests of the state of New Hampshire but also for the other interests of the state.

President Hetzel discussed the recent passage of the Mill Tax Bill, and in so doing paid deep respect to Governor Winant for his enthusiastic support of the institution. He enumerated in detail the plans of the Mill Tax Bill, its enactment by the legislature, providing an additional $36,000 a year for the extension work and requiring the counties of the state to appropriate more money for the same work. He said that everyone seemed to have caught the fever and even the Congress of the United States had increased its appropriations; so that now for the first time in its history the perpetuity of the University of New Hampshire is decided upon, and it seems that she can now 'Carry On'.

Dr. Harvey L. Boutwell, '82, President of the Board of Trustees, in speaking to the alumni said the passage of the Mill Tax Bill was the Fourth Epoch in the history of the University of New Hampshire. Naming the epochs in order (1) the passage of the Land Great Act by Congress in 1862, (2) the establishment at Hanover of New Hampshire College in 1868, (3) the moving of New Hampshire College to Durham in 1892, and (4) the passage of the Mill Tax Bill in 1925. Dr. Boutwell paid marked tribute to the abilities of President Hetzel and also to many of the older grads present for their success in worldly accomplishments.

James S. Chamberlin, Representative from Durham, to the legislature and a strong factor in winning the passage of the Mill Tax Bill, complimented the alumni for having such a man for president of New Hampshire University as Dr. Hetzel. He said that he had not intended to speak but simply could not resist the temptation to pay his respects to President Hetzel.

C. J. O'Leary, Jr., '20, President of the Boston Club and toastmaster for the occasion, welcomed the guests and alumni and briefly enumerated the accomplishments of the Boston Club. He expressed great satisfaction for the cooperation that the Boston alumni had given him and stated it was a particular source of pleasure to note the loyal support the older grads were giving the

Rollo Gets Anxious

No, they're not cripples. Neither are they lame. Nor have they sprained an ankle. Those, Rollo, are SENIORS. Yes, they do this every year, carry canes, I mean. Oh, yes, it is done everywhere. Of course they do it awkwardly, but before Commencement is here they'll be swinging them as jauntily as Edward, the prince, himself.

That knob on the end? No, that is not the Sphinx. Many of those men never belonged to the Sphinx. That, Rollo, is the Old Man of the Mount-ains, the Great Stone Face, you know, the Profile. The connection — why Franconia Notch, where the Old Man keeps his watch, is in New Hampshire, and we are in New Hampshire, also, Rollo.

The general idea? You're dumb! Why I've told you that these men were SENIORS, Rollo. That means that they have completed their education. They are going to be graduated. Then they step out into the great wide world, where men are men and women are school teachers. They wear the canes to remind you of these facts. They deserve our sympathy. They are going to work.

What's that, Rollo? Why is Gus Clark's cane the same length as Johnny Bryant's cane? That is easy for uncle, Rollo,—the canes were not made to order.

THE SUB-SECTION "ATTENDANCE"

Among the books upon your desk you have, or ought to have, as a student in this institution, a paper covered booklet called "Official Information for Students". This paper-back is the rule book of the university and contains for you the tables of the law. Open it. You will find it to consist of four parts. The first of these contains general information, library rules, and fire regulations. With this part we have no quarrel.

Part Two is called "Rules and Regulations for Students" and contains 13 sub-sections. Sections one, two, and three of this part have to do with entrance methods and conditions, the collection and payment of fees, forfeits, room-rent and other such-like sums and assessments levied justly and of necessity on the students. Sections five to 13 inclusive, deal with military, physical education, disciplinary, and health regulations. With these above cited 12 sections of Part Two we have no present difference. Now turn to Part Two, Section 4, page 23. The title of this section is "Attendance". Read it carefully. You will see this in the first paragraph: "Every student must attend convocation and all class exercises in the subjects for which he is registered and will be held responsible for all work in the subjects of his schedule." A little farther down another rule says: "Excuses from scheduled work cannot be granted by any member of the university staff.

These two rules seem to be implicitly, if not actually, contradictory. One forbids "cuts". The other forbids the sanctioning of "cuts". If absences are forbidden, a rule covering the granting of absences is academic and unnecessary. Carry the matter to a logical conclusion. The doctor is a member of the university staff; class room work is a very necessary phase of any student's schedule; and therefore it seems to us that the doctor cannot grant excuses from class room work even if you are twenty miles away undergoing an operation for a serious illness. Of course you will say that all this is far-fetched, that it does not work out like this in practice. And we admit that fact. But we should like to be informed as to the real reason for the inclusion of such a rule in a book which purports to be "Official Information For Students".

Another rule which flatly contradicts the rule relative to the granting of cuts says: "Necessary absences are those approved by the instructor or health officer. And yet the previous rule says: "Excuses from scheduled work cannot be granted by ANY MEMBER of the university staff".

Are not these rules and counter rules the essence of absurdity? Why can not we have ONE RULE containing, if necessary, several clauses which will settle in a simple and rational manner the whole subject of cuts? In less than a page and a half of printed matter there are seventeen separate and distinct rules and regulations governing attendance. And this is not all. There are other rules on the same subject under the headings of military science, physical education, disciplinary, and health regulations.

Some of the rules are contradictory. Many of them are openly flouted by several departments in the university. For instance, one rule says explicitly that: "The maximum penalty which can be given for each unnecessary absence is a zero!" Yet a certain department deducts from two to four units from a student's final grade for each cut in direct defiance of the rule. We have in mind a certain case. A student got a mark of 80 in the mid-term in a subject listed in this department. The rule says: "If a student's absences are seriously interfering with his scholarship—his instructor will report him at once to the dean of his college". It seems to us that a student who received a grade of 80 in his mid-term could take one or two absences without "serious interference with his scholarship". This rule would take care of serious delinquency, in any event, without private and unauthorized penalties on the part of the instructor. This is but one department. Another has evolved a system of "progressive zeros" whereby a student's absences are penalized on a rising scale, the penalty keeping always two jumps ahead of the misdemeanor. If these rules mean nothing, if they are binding upon one party but not upon the other, why have them?

Conversation with high officials on both administrative and instructional staffs brings forth the astounding information that there is a very prevalent belief that we have no "cut system". It seems to us, however, that seventeen rules and regulations included in a volume entitled "Official Information For Students" constitute a system. And it is a haphazard and repetitious system. In many cases the common sense of the instructor takes care of attendance but in these cases it must be strictly understood that common sense is unofficial and against the rules.

We would like to see the rules obeyed. We think that they could be more easily obeyed if there were fewer of them. And many of them can be eliminated to the great benefit of all concerned. If the booklets for next year are already printed "errata" inserts can be made at little cost and a very serious problem solved.

After all it is our belief that to a reasonable extent "cuts" are a student's individual concern. If he misses important work the matter is entirely up to him to adjust as best he may. To ask him to bear in mind always this weighty compendium of unnecessary, repetitious and inconsistent red tape called "Official Information For Students", "cramme repetia") is very like tying a tin can to a dog's caudal appendage. Why not come to a definite, uniform, sensible agreement between all departments on this matter?

OUR EDITORIALS

We wonder what you think of them. They have been outspoken; they have been frank; they have been critical. We have attempted to avoid narrow and unfair criticism. We have sought to learn the facts and the reasons behind the facts for various conditions which we have questioned. We have raised some questions hitherto not discussed openly by students. Of course we have sometimes been wrong; most certainly we have often expressed opinions with which you have not agreed.

Some of the faculty have liked them; they have told us so. Others haven't liked them; they have told our friends; our friends have told us. "Do those fellows think they are running this institution?" they have inquired. "Who do they think they are?"

It is for them that this article is written. The New Hampshire editorial board does not believe that it is going to reform the world nor this University. We do not expect that everything which we uphold will be granted; we do not believe that all our proposals are exactly the correct thing in the long run; we know that the men at the head of our administration have had many years of experience in educational work; we respect their opinion; we appreciate their cooperation and encouragement to us at all times during the year.

But we do know this: in college circles today all over the United States there has arisen what has been called, "the new journalism". In past years the editorial columns of the college newspaper were mere collections of platitudes and high sounding phrases. Students were exhorting to attend conventional football rallies in the conventional way; support was asked for the wearers of the "good old yellow and pink, or grey and brindle". To the college editor his college was the only college; the methods of his college were perfect; the faculty and the administration of his college were beyond reproach—perfect. He was afflicted with "Boosteritis". Today all that is changed. Today the college editor attempts to discuss local problems of the day in a clear and unbiased manner. If he sees a condition in the affairs of his institution that he believes should be changed, he does not hesitate to say so whether his arraignment hits the faculty or the student body. The Amherst Student says, "any justification of the new ideals of liberality and independence in college journalism is unnecessary. It is only by arousing intelligent discussion that improvement in student conditions can be made". The New Student observes, "under the glare of merciless publicity, faculty appointments and educational policies become no more private affairs of the college than freshmen rules or College Spirit." Everywhere this spirit can be observed. College papers are focusing the attention of their readers on important problems in their undergraduate life. The viewpoint of the editor may be right or it may be wrong; his success as an editor depends upon the percentage of times in which his own opinion coincides with the ideas of his readers.

The New Hampshire, through its editorials, has aimed and will endeavor to call the attention of the student body, the faculty, and the administration to any condition existing here which we believe should be changed for our mutual benefit. We do so with the knowledge that the University, including The New Hampshire, is subject to the government of the administration. And we like to hear people, especially faculty members, disagree with our editorials—that proves that they are reading them.

STUDENTS GUESTS OF DOVER CHURCHMEN MOTHERS' DAY

Sunday, May 10, 1925, there were 18 students who took advantage of the invitation extended by the Dover Churches to go to Dover. Many more had planned to go but at 10 o'clock Sunday the 18 students left the Y-Office in automobiles. Five students went to the Methodist Church, four to the Episcopal, and nine to the Congregational. All who went enjoyed a pleasant time and especially the Sunday dinner which was served to them. They returned to Durham in the middle of the afternoon.

Boston University Sharpshooters
 Guests of Officer's Club Here—
 Tea Dance and Beef-Steak Dinner on Program

Winning by the slight margin of four points the pistol team of Boston University defeated the New Hampshire team in a shoulder to shoulder meet on Saturday, May 9. This meet was the second to be held between the two Universities. The first was held at B. U. in March.

The week end was given over to the B. U. team by the Military Department and advanced students. A tea dance was given the B. U. team on Friday afternoon by the sponsors, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Clarkson, in the "T" Hall Gym. The B. U. men and the advanced students were the guests of the sponsors who had by skillful decorating given the Gym a very martial appearance. A very pleasing feature of the gathering was the exhibition of toe-dancing by Miss Jean Walker.

The firing began promptly at 9 on Saturday morning. Each team was represented by ten men; the five highest scores of each team were counted in the scoring. The firing was done at 15, 25, and 50 yards. Slow firing was used at 25 and 50 yards and rapid at 15 and 25 yards. The teams were very evenly matched and it was impossible to tell who was to win until the last man had fired. An exhibition was given by George Twombly. George proved

Following the shoot, a steak dinner was served on the range to the contestants and advanced course students. Sergeant Brown was the chief cook, ably assisted by Stan King. Or perhaps Stan was the chief cook and was assisted by the Sergeant. The dinner was a noteworthy success regardless of who was cook.

Captain Pettee and F. P. MacDonald were in charge of the arrangements for the shoot, which was held under the auspices of the Officers' Club. Major Drollinger and Captain Chester of B. U. accompanied the team here.

JUDGE A. O. MORSE HOLDS FIRST COURT

Out of State Visitor Fined for Fishing Without a License in
 First Session of Local Court

The first session of the Durham Police Court was held, Judge A. O. Morse on the bench, on Wednesday, May 13, when an out of state visitor was before the court for fishing without a license. The complaint was made by one of the local game wardens and a warrant was sworn out by Judge Morse.

The Judge has been very reticent about the affair and the exact nature of the court proceedings have not been divulged. The minimum fine for fishing without a license is $25.00 and costs, and it is believed that this was the penalty inflicted by the court.

The local court is handicapped by the lack of suitable quarters in which to hold its sessions. None of the legal paraphernalia associated with all regular and well governed court rooms is available in town, and the proceedings of the court are held most informally. The fact which interests most students is that the court officer is here, the Judge is alert and on the job, and the machinery of the law is well oiled to handle all offenders.

DEAN C. H. PETTEE BREAKS WRIST CRANKING CAR

Dean Charles H. Pettee had the misfortune to break his right wrist on Wednesday morning while attempting to crank his car preparatory to his morning spin to Thompson Hall. With his usual determination and energy the Dean was on the job in his office several hours after the mishap, Dr. Grant having set the broken bone in his wrist.

Sailing West to India

SINCE the days of Christopher Columbus men have felt the call to "sail due west to find India." In an organization like Westinghouse, such pioneering spirits find happy haven as research engineers. Their every thought is a question—every energy bent to discover new and more effective answers to baffling problems.

Immediately Westinghouse began to build alternating current machines of high voltages, for example, the problem of insulation became acute. For thirty-five years high voltages and insulation have formed an endless chain of problems. As voltages have been increased, improved insulation has been demanded. As insulation has been bettered, voltages have been still further increased.

One striking contribution of Westinghouse research engineers has been the perfection of an entirely new insulation material—Micarta. Possessing many of the qualities of metal, paper, fiber, mica, gum, rubber, Micarta differs in radical respect from all of these.

It serves industry indirectly as improved insulation material, and also directly because of superiorities when used for gears, propeller blades, and the like.

Only the imagination can set a limit on the field for the research engineer—or for an organization that centers around him.

This advertisement is one of a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

HOUSE PARTY PLANS PROGRESS

Junior Prom Promises to Outdo Other Big Dances

PERLEY BREED TO PLAY

Fraternities to Hold Many House Parties Next Week—Saturday to Be Holiday From Classes.

With a little over a week to go, the various fraternities on the campus are preparing for the biggest and best house-party season that the University has ever witnessed. Plans are practically completed in the majority of the house and the only thing to do now is to wait until the "night-before" to decorate.

The season's greatest social event, Junior Prom, which takes place in the men's gymnasium, May 22, promises to be the equal of the Carnival ball of last February, which was acclaimed by all to be the best dance that the University students have sponsored. The music for Junior Prom is to be furnished by the celebrated "Perley Breed" orchestra from Boston which has built up a splendid reputation in Boston and vicinity. This orchestra has received much publicity by playing "Oak Manor" and at Shepherd's Colonial Restaurant from which its daily concerts have been broadcasted all over the United States.

Favors have already been ordered which promise to be very attractive. Invitations for the dance will be ready in a short time and will be given when the ticket is bought.

The Saturday night following Junior Prom, the various fraternity house dances will take place. These will be preceded by dinner parties and any other form of amusement to entertain the "Prom" Girl. At eleven o'clock Saturday night the week-end's frivolities cease and Sunday afternoon the quiet little town of Durham will once more settle down to the unceasing hurry to the "eight o'clocks" and the rattle and bang of the famous $25 "flivvers."

POPULAR CONVOCATION SPEAKER TO ADDRESS "Y"

The Rev. Donald Fraser, last year's most popular convocation speaker is to be the speaker at the next regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. next Monday evening, May 18 at 7.30 p.m. in the Zoology lecture room. The Rev. Mr. Fraser is the pastor of the First Congregational Church at Rochester, N. H. and besides winning the title of "best convocation speaker" has spoken before the Durham men's club. He has the reputation of being a wonderful story teller and is well worth listening to.

Besides Mr. Fraser's talk, the matter of Silver Bay and the delegates to the State convention at Nashua will be taken up and discussed.

FRED W. FUDGE TO LEAD NEXT YEAR'S HOCKEY TEAM

At a recent meeting of the hockey letter men, Frederick W. Fudge, Stoneham, Mass., was elected captain of the 1926 hockey team. Fudge was a recipient of one of the first letters granted for varsity hockey here, playing a hard consistent game at left defense for Captain "Bill" Sayward's 1925 sextet. Captain-elect Fudge is a member of the Delta Pi Epsilon fraternity.

FROSH ADD THREE MORE SCALPS TO BELT

May 12, Tuesday, by a 14 to 2 score.

The freshmen have the best team this year that the University has ever produced since the one year rule went into effect. It is not a one man team, it is a nine man team and every player on it has had to fight for his position. At the beginning of the season there were over 70 men out for the team but through the process of elimination Coach Gustafson has been able to reduce the squad to a minimum and every player is worthy of his position. It has been demonstrated time and again that the so called second team, which in reality is not a second team, but extra candidates for the various positions, is as good as the first team and is fully capable of holding any opponent to a small score. So far this season the yearlings have had absolutely no opposition. The teams that they have played have offered no resistance, and the freshmen have been able to take them into camp without the least bit of trouble. With Slayton and Evans alternating on the mound, there is little possibility of any team of their class overwhelming them. With Foy, Elliot and Columbia catching these two twirlers, a veritable impenetrable backstop. The infield is working as smoothly as a team of veterans. With Hatch at second base, Ramsey at short stop and Bridge at third, there is little possibility of a ball hopping through to the outfield. Percival and the two Gustafsons in the outfield are handling their positions in the best manner possible and so far this season have recorded very few errors. The freshmen have their eyes on the ball as has been demonstrated by their heavy hitting which has been very exceptional for early season hitting.

In the game with Brewster last Thursday, the freshmen had the edge from the start. Evans started the game for the home team and pitched them to victory. The freshmen scored consistently throughout the game while the visitors were held until the sixth inning without a run. In this inning they managed to bring home two men. They again scored in the eighth. Carlisle was placed on the mound in the sixth inning and from all appearances he will see more service as he did very well in holding the Brewster players to three runs. In the seventh inning Ramsey sprained his ankle on a slide to third base. It is significant to note that in this game the freshmen used 18 players.

The game with Tilton was even easier for the freshmen than that with Brewster. Slayton was on the mound for the home team with Foy backing him up. Slayton has not had a chance this season to hardly warm up, so easy have been his opponents. The yearlings started scoring in the first inning and from then scored incessantly until the sixth, when they were held by a rally staged by Tilton who managed to bring two men across the plate. Again, the freshmen used 18 men, proving that the so-called second team is as capable as the first team in holding the opposition to small scores.

On Tuesday, Amesbury looked better than any team that had opposed the freshmen and in the first two innings they were able to hold the New Hampshire team. Amesbury scored one run in the first inning while the freshmen were unable to score. In the last of the third the freshmen came back to their usual form and started to score. Two players crossed the home plate in this inning. Amesbury was held scoreless until the eighth inning when one run was brought home. Another was scored by the visitors in the ninth.

club. More than a dozen grads previous to 1885 were present at the banquet. Mr. O'Leary urged hearty support of the Alumni Association work.

More than 120 alumni, guests and friends were present at the banquet. This was nearly double the number of last year. Flowers for the occasion were very kindly donated by Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Fisher, '15, of Woburn, Massachusetts, and the committee was deeply appreciative of their kind gift. Menus for the banquet were donated by Lorin Paine, '23, of the Hooper Printing Company, 43 India St., Boston; these, too, were certainly appreciated.

Music by a five piece group from the University Orchestra was pleasingly furnished. The five boys who came down from Durham were: Altman, Smith, Engell, McDonald, and Bloomfield. A fine round of applause was given by the alumni as a note of appreciation for these boys coming down from Durham, for practically nothing, to play at the banquet. They did a fine job, say the guests, and the Boston Club officers are sincere in their appreciation.

The Reverend Vaughn Dabney, former pastor of the Community Church at Durham, invoked the divine blessing. Those seated at the head table were: His Excellency and Mrs. John G. Winant, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. O'Leary, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Hetzel, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Gilbert, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Boutwell, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Chamberlin, and Reverend Vaughn Dabney.

Part of the program was broadcasted from station W.B.Z. between 8.30 and 9.30. A wire of congratulations was received from Don Melville, '20, secretary of the Western Massachusetts Club. A wire of regrets was received from Priscella Norris, '20, secretary of the Boston Club because of her inability to be present due to illness.

The committee in charge of the banquet were C. J. O'Leary, '20, B. Callender, '20, E. P. Norris, '20, E. B. Philbrick, '20, D. E. Elkins, '20, Dr. H. W. Batchelder, '18, H. W. Stevens, '23, E. D. Hardy, '06, and Lorin Paine, ex-'23.

WESLEYAN STAYS AHEAD

On Saturday, following the Clark game, New Hampshire played a losing game with Wesleyan in Middletown. The strain of too much batting on the previous day apparently had its effect showing itself in an inability to hit the Wesleyan pitcher. Garvin for New Hampshire pitched an exceptionally fine game after the fifth inning, although a little difficulty was experienced during the first part of the playing. Wesleyan started the scoring with two runs in the first after two men had been called out. New Hampshire's first score came in the third, but in the fourth Funk of Wesleyan scored on a home run. Wesleyan again scored in the fifth on two hits and an error. With the score standing 5 to 1, New Hampshire came to bat in the eighth. Hammersley's hit took him to second base and he scored on O'Connor's hit. O'Connor stole second and came home on Jenkin's sacrifice. This brought the score to 5-3, where it remained.

PROF. ERNEST R. GROVES WRITES ANOTHER BOOK

Longmans, Green and Co. have in press a new book by Ernest R. Groves, formerly Dean of Arts and Science at New Hampshire University. It is entitled "Social Problems and Education", and is a college textbook of some 500 pages. Do College Students Insure Their Lives?
The Answer Seems to be "Yes"

Do You Know

That in a test recently made with upper-class students of both sexes in fourteen representative colleges, 140 out of 351 said they carried life insurance policies?

It is significant that 40% of undergraduates have insurance on their lives—a notable advance over what prevailed twenty, or even ten, years ago.

The John Hancock is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and in obtaining college graduates for the personnel of the field staff.

But the whole team doesn't play first base

To suppose that a baseball nine will all cover just one position is as far from the truth as to think that everyone in the electrical industry is an engineer.

This field will always need trained engineers. But with its great manufacturing, construction and commercial activities, the industry must have non-technical men too.

Since the industry is manned by many types, the result of your work will depend a good deal on the success with which you team up. The qualities that win are not only efficiency attained by the light of a study lamp, but that all-pull-together spirit of the athletic field.

This point of view may be useful to the man who has wondered whether campus activities, with all their striving and stern testing, their setbacks and their triumphs, have any counterpart in after life.

TILTON WINNER IN PREP SCHOOL TRACK TOURNEY

Instate Tracksters Bow to Dark Horse of Meet

MANFREDA HIGH SCORER

Bridgton High Superior in Out-Of-State Lists, Equally Strong in Track and Field Events, and Wins Handily

Tilton, the dark horse, emerged victorious in the interscholastic track meet held here last Saturday, being able to pile up 29 points in the in-state competition; while Bridgton was victorious in the out-of-state schools, having 59 points to its credit. Pinkerton was the runner-up to Tilton having 26 points to its credit.

The meet started at ten o'clock Saturday morning when the trial heats for the track events were run off. Some of the finals of the field events were also run off in the morning.

Tilton presented a very unbalanced team, being exceedingly weak in the track events but very strong in the weight events. In the weight events Tilton scored 20 of the total 29 points. In the discus Tilton took all three places. Grady, the winner of the event, also placed first in the hammer and third in the javelin and shot-put.

Bridgton was by far the superior in the out-of-state class. The runner-up being Thornton Academy which was 20 points behind the winner of the laurels. Bridgton was strong in the track and field events and had no difficulty in taking first place.

Two interscholastic track records were equalled in the meet, and one was broken.

Two new interscholastic records were made for the University track and one was equalled. "Tony" Manfreda, of Sanborn Seminary, the individual star of the meet jumped 21.43 feet, in the broad jump, beating the old record of 26.02 feet, held by Howard Ferrin of Concord High School, and equalling the interscholastic record of 23 seconds in the 220 yord dash. Chaplin of Nashua clipped one fifth of a second from the half-mile record when he ran it in two minutes and four-fifths seconds.

"Tony" Manfreda who earlier in the week was ineligible to compete in the interscholastics because of difficulties in his subjects, was the high point winner of the day, scoring 20 of the 21 points credited to Sanborn Seminary.

In the mile run Pinkerton romped home the winner and succeeded in winning the event in the excellent time of three minutes and 46 seconds. Nashua came in second with Concord a close third.

Hamel of Berlin obtained recognition in his remarkable ability to go over the bar at 11 feet in the pole vault. This is exceedingly high for a prep school athlete to vault and this distance is probably the envy of many college athletes.

INTERFRATERNITY BASEBALL LEAGUES EVENLY MATCHED

Season Progressing Rapidly and Much Interest Shown. Twelve Chapters Participating. Physical Education Credit Given

The inter-fraternity base-ball season is progressing rapidly and the interest between the various fraternities is very great. So far this spring six games have been played off. At this stage of the season it would be impossible to make any forecast as to the outcome of the two leagues as the teams are quite evenly matched.

With the enthusiasm that prevails this year there is no doubt but that next season will witness much more as the teams will then be able to use the new diamond. The members of the fraternities are responding to the calls for players and are able to receive physical education credit if they play in a game.
